If you could put your life in a song
What would it be? What would you let people see?
Take a moment to take a look around
What do you see? Tell me, cause I... see
Broken-shattered hearts screaming out loud
Waiting for someone... to come, and take them away
Would you take your mask off for a second?
Would you allow healing to happen?
Cause you know, oh, you know
You can't deny... you've been living a lie
And its time

D G
Time to get down on your knees and pray
D G
Don't worry about the words to say
D G
Tomorrows coming, arising a brand new day
D G D G
Start again, with a new friend who died for you
D G D G
Be washed clean, it's so simple, just believe...

Lay down all your doubts and fears
Time to release all those held back tears
Don't worry, it'll be alright
Let Jesus come and hold you tight
Cause its time

Greater love, no one will ever know
The price he paid to wash us clean as snow
Let me ask you just this one question
Would you sacrifice your only son?
Cause you know, oh, you know
You can't deny, when you look him in the eye
Cause you know, oh, you know
You can't deny, yea, he's looking you in the eye
