

THE QUEST

Rob Kern and Alex Balingit

G

Does your heart yearn for the rolling fields of a grassy plain, or perhaps some distant stream?
Do you see yourself caught out in the middle of the pouring rain, No you're sure you're not in a dream.

E C G E C
Do you gleam in your heart the bountiful lands of a fantasy, or perhaps something more with a rush of ecstasy? Do my love songs reach your ears? Or pray my strength alleviates your fears?
G E C G
E C G

We will follow him with boot and rod. Together we'll uncover the legacy of our God and I stand here isolated save faith and love. I stand here, looming a grand venture.

E C G E C G E C
And so I have sought out thou dove. My sword is sharp, my reach is long. I stand here, so boldly, my feet have never been so sure. Naught could stop my quest for you.
G E C G
E C G E C
For no afflictions shall I falter, my shield, it covers you. I stand here on the eve of adventure. The wind blows in my favor. The sun smiles down upon me. I and my savior, we stand happy... and blessed.
G E C G E
C G

My feet are upon the rock and my hand secure... on the hilt. With confidence shinning in my eye, the horizon I did spy. And so I turn to thee with an inviting smile.

Knowing fully well what you're capable of. And the challenges placed between you and the desires you seek. Thus I draw my weapon and raise it to the division of the heavens... and Earth.

Yet, the light of day reveals a hidden addition... to the metal. Your named etched next to a flower petal.
Finally I see what lies before us.

My great secret and our great... enterprise. A hearty laugh escapes my lips. And with no hesitation I take your hand and step out into the abyss. Holding tightly to the memories of prosperity that you're dreaming of. Nothing is impossible, it's quite infallible... with love.

IN HIS SERVICE | ALEX BALINGIT

© 2009 by Alex Balingit. Permission to photocopy granted.
www.alexalingit.com